The Catechism of the Catholic Church

1723 The beatitude we are promised confronts us with decisive moral choices. It invites us to purify our hearts of bad instincts and to seek the love of God above all else. It teaches us that true happiness is not found in riches or well-being, in human fame or power, or in any human achievement - however beneficial it may be - such as science, technology, and art, or indeed in any creature, but in God alone, the source of every good and of all love:

All bow down before wealth. Wealth is that to which the multitude of men pay an instinctive homage. They measure happiness by wealth; and by wealth they measure respectability. . . . It is a homage resulting from a profound faith . . . that with wealth he may do all things. Wealth is one idol of the day and notoriety is a second. . . . Notoriety, or the making of a noise in the world - it may be called "newspaper fame" - has come to be considered a great good in itself, and a ground of veneration.

Reflections from Fr. Greg
25th Sunday of Ordinary Time, Year C
Liturgy of the Word Part II

The Liturgy of the Word consists of the Readings from Sacred Scripture, the Responsorial Psalm, Profession of Faith and the Universal Prayer (aka Petitions). Listening to the Word of God prepares us to make the Profession of Faith and this leads to praying for the needs of the Church and the world.

“When the Sacred Scriptures are read in the Church, God himself speak to his people, and Christ, present in his word, proclaims the Gospel”. (GIRM #29) The liturgy uses liturgical books that contain the scripture readings: the lectionary contains the readings for the Mass and the Book of the Gospels. As you notice these books are hard covered, usually beautifully decorated and a little larger than a normal book to show reverence and the permanence of the Word of God within the Liturgy of the Word. The book of the gospels carries special dignity because of its content; thus it will often have a more ornate cover; it may be carried in procession, placed on the altar, and it is kissed by the priest or deacon after proclaiming it. The processional candles used for the gospel procession or candles placed near the ambo help visually tie the altar of sacrifice to the altar of the word (ambo) where the readings are proclaimed by a properly designated reader. We hear the Word of God to help us know God, to Believe in our hearts, so that we can eventually love Him. We say that Mary believed in her heart before she conceived in her womb. The Word of God is proclaimed at the ambo to help us believe so that we may more worthily take Jesus into our bodies in and through the Most Holy Eucharist.

The ambo: every church is required to have a suitable place from which the Word of God may be proclaimed and toward which the attention of the faithful naturally are turned. “It is appropriate that generally this place be a stationary ambo and not simply a moveable lectern. The ambo must be located in keeping with the design of each church in such a way that the ordained ministers and readers may be clearly seen and heard by the faithful. From the ambo only the readings, the Responsorial Psalm, and the Easter Proclamation (Exultet) are to be proclaimed; likewise it may be used for giving the Homily and for announcing the intentions of the Universal Prayer. The dignity of the ambo requires that only a minister of the word should stand at it.” (GIRM #309).

Readers carry an important responsibility in proclaiming the Word of God. They should properly prepare their readings by being familiar with them so that it can pronounced properly and that the Word resounds in their hearts. It is to be proclaimed and not performed; the Word of God is powerful in itself.

Presbyteral Assembly

St. Charles Rosary Leaders Needed

It's time again for the Rosary before Mass in October. There is a sign up sheet in the back of church. Thanks to all the volunteers.

"Making the Rosary a family prayer is very pleasing to me. I ask that all families strive to do so. But be careful to say the Rosary with great devotion, meditating on each mystery and striving to imitate in your daily lives the virtues depicted. Live the mysteries of the rosary as I lived them, and it will become a chain binding you to me forever. They who are found in the circle of my Rosary will never be lost. I myself will lead them at death to the throne of my Son, to be eternally united to Him". ~Our Lady of America

ST. PIO OF PIETRELCINA (1887-1968) September 23

Did the World War II American flyer really see Padre Pio in midair, preventing the bombing of his village below? Did Pio actually "bilocate" in Italy, the Holy Land, even America, as countless witnesses testified?

Or "read hearts" before penitents spoke? What of the stigmata, Christ's wounds imprinted on Padre Pio's hands, feet, and side? John Paul II, who as a young man visited Pio, never mentioned these extraordinary elements at the canonization. Instead, the pope spoke of "trials accepted with love," referring perhaps to sanctions restricting Pio's faculties for hearing confessions and celebrating public Mass, imposed because of criticism, later discredited, sent to the Vatican; of Pio's offering his sufferings in union with Jesus' passion for a suffering world; of his continual availability to sinners seeking direction and absolution; of Padre Pio's prayer that blossomed in charity, especially through his "House for the Relief of Suffering," a healthcare facility that anticipated by decades today's holistic partnering of medical science and spirituality. Finally, how comforting for us "ordinary" Christians, this extraordinary saint's most frequent advice: "Pray, hope, and don't worry!"

Reflection

"No servant can serve two masters. He will hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon (wealth)." Luke 16:13

Jesus knows that for many of us, God and money run "neck and neck" as top priority. Is money a "god" that you put before God? Giving money to support the Church and other charity is a pillar of our faith, just like attending Mass every Sunday and participating in parish ministry. Giving money frees us from becoming a slave to money. It increases our dependence on God and our trust that God will provide all that we need.

Celebrate Life

"The terrible miscalculation of young women is that abortion can make them 'un-pregnant,' that it will restore them to who they were before their crisis. But a woman is never the same once she is pregnant, whether the child is kept, adopted, or killed. Abortion may be a kind of resolution, but it is not the one the woman most deeply longs for, nor will it even preserve her sense of self" (Paul Swope, "Abortion: A Failure to Communicate")
